About the FiTI:

The Fisheries Transparency Initiative (FiTI) is a global multi-stakeholder partnership. Its purpose is to increase transparency and participation in fisheries governance for the benefit of a more sustainable management of marine fisheries.

By making fisheries management more transparent and inclusive, the FiTI promotes informed public debates on fisheries policies and supports the long-term contribution of the sector to national economies and the well-being of citizens and businesses that depend on a healthy marine environment.

In the spirit of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 17, which calls for a 'Partnership for the Goals', the FiTI does not represent a single interest group or political point of view. Instead, the diversity of different stakeholders is a central feature of the FiTI.

The FiTI is governed by an International Multi-Stakeholder Board, and operated by the FiTI International Secretariat. The Secretariat comprises of a globally distributed team of fisheries and governance experts, located in several countries as well as in its Seychelles-based headquarter. Job description:

We are seeking a FiTI Regional Coordinator for the Pacific region to start enhancing awareness about transparency for marine fisheries management and to increase the public availability, credibility and usability of fisheries information, in particular in the following five countries: Kiribati, Marshall Islands, Papua New Guinea, Fiji and Solomon Islands.

This position will have daily responsibilities for interacting with national and regional stakeholders from government, business and civil society, as well as with international partner organisations.

The Regional Coordinator will report to the Executive Director of the International Secretariat.

This vacancy is a unique opportunity to play a leading role in supporting the growth of the FiTI in the Pacific and to contribute to the global development of this initiative.

Key responsibilities:

Awareness raising

- Determine tailored engagement approaches for stakeholders in the targeted countries within the Pacific region
- Conduct on-site (and virtual) missions to target countries to discuss with stakeholders from government, business and civil society opportunities to engage in the FiTI
- Support national/regional actors in conceptualising and organising FiTI-related awareness raising events

Country engagements in the FiTI implementation process

- Coordinate three TAKING STOCK assessments for selected target countries²
- Conduct regular interactions with designated focal points from national authorities as well as other relevant stakeholders to provide guidance regarding the implementation of the FiTI Standard
- Engage national and regional partners to align implementation, outreach and communication activities
- Obtain public commitments to join the FiTI from at least three governments of the targeted countries
- Support committed countries in:
 - Implementing a new participatory governance toolkit, offering practical recommendations to FiTI National Multi-Stakeholder Groups (MSGs) on how an increase in public data (through the FiTI reporting process) can contribute to inclusive decision-making and public oversight in fisheries

- Raising public understanding of fisheries management information, e.g. through FiTI's new 'Fisheries Information Analysis' programme
- Developing a long-term resource mobilisation and information distribution strategy
- Institutionalising fisheries transparency within the national context

Communication

- Represent the FiTI in relevant national and regional events
- Support communication activities, such as the drafting of regular blog articles for the FiTI website

Global administration and governance

- Participate in weekly status meetings with the Executive Director of the FiTI International Secretariat
- Support global communication/outreach activities of the FiTI International Secretariat (including official correspondence)
- Support the organisation of FiTI International Board meetings (including the elaboration of preparatory papers, preparation of sessions)
- Undertake other related tasks as assigned by the Executive Director of the FiTI International Secretariat

Qualifications:

Candidates for this position must provide evidence of the following:

- Bachelor's degree (minimum requirement) in a relevant discipline, such as fisheries, law, public administration, environmental studies, marine biology, international development;
- At least 4 years of professional work experience, ideally within the fisheries sector, international development or other transparency/good governance/open governments efforts;
- Proven capacity to draft high-quality concept papers/policy analyses in English;
- Access to a solid network of key national and regional organisations in fisheries management/ocean governance within the Pacific;
- Understanding of diverging stakeholder demands (e.g. governments, business, civil society) and a passion for working in such a multi-facet environment;
- Excellent communication, presentation and interpersonal skills;

- Readiness to travel on a regular basis (at least every 3 months);
- ‘Hands-on’ attitude, with the ability to work independently and within a small, globally-distributed team;
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office, CRM systems, collaboration software;
- Fluent English speaker and proficient writer³ – fluency in another language is a plus.

Our offer:

- Be part of a friendly and highly motivated global team willing to make a difference for sustainable fisheries
- Access to key national and regional decision makers and policy fora
- Regional/international travel (e.g. to conduct country missions, participate in conferences and workshops)
- Highly flexible working hours
- Paid time off as well as annual office closure
- Competitive remuneration, based on qualifications and experience
- Home office allowance
